

The group decided to try and create a dungeon style game. Where the person playing will be able to control the person in the game. It is in the plan to try and have monsters that the player will fight to move onto the next level. The group also plans on programming blackjack as the second game. Blackjack will hopefully be a lot less difficult, meaning it could be used to fall back on if the dungeon game doesn't pan out.